First International Seminar of Accounting History

December 3-4, 2015

University of Siena
Department of Business and Law
Piazza San Francesco no. 7, Siena, Italy

Call for Candidature

Moving from a successful experience dating back the nineties the Italian Society of Accounting History (SISR) is eager to launch the First International Seminars of Accounting History (ISAH). Siena and its historic heritage could represent the perfect background where to convene and host the First ISAH.

The main objective of our seminar is to offer to - the junior and senior, Italian and international - participants the opportunity to present and discuss their own research papers in Accounting History profiting of a valuable faculty composition and the attendance of valuable invited speakers.

The seminar program will be defined in order to offer a relevant opportunity to improve the quality of the papers presented and discussed. This is particularly convenient and oriented to address and reinforce the steps towards the forthcoming major event of the 14th World Congress of the Academy of Accounting Historians to be held in Pescara in 2016 (June 25-27). It is worthy to emphasize that the official journal of SISR, Contabilità e Cultura Aziendale – Accounting and Cultures will support the ISAH and will be involved in it.

Each participant is asked to submit his/her candidature and a research paper in Accounting History not later than September 20, 2015.

The full paper submission (in word) - focusing on the full range of accounting history topics and written according to different methodological and theoretical perspectives - have to be sent to:

Roberto Di Pietra (dipietra@unisi.it) and Massimo Sargiacomo (msargiacomo@unich.it).

Authors will be notified on the paper acceptance not later then October 15, 2015.

CALL FOR PAPERS My first paper of accounting history

Accounting history is a fascinating research area, characterized by the presence of some scholars who have decided to specialize their research agenda in this field. Sometimes, for this reason, accounting scholars don't explore this field considering it a niche research field to leave to specialists.

Actually, the investigation of the historical dimension has a great potentiality within the accounting research in its different strands and it also deserves the attention of scholars who have devoted their investigations to accounting topics in general.

In this regard, considering fundamental to enlarge the historical investigation, Contabilità e Cultura Aziendale - Accounting and Cultures intends to stimulate the production of accounting history papers by scholars facing for the first time an accounting history paper, devoting a Special Issue to these contributions.

In order to help who intends to explore this field submitting a paper for the Special Issue, Contabilità e Cultura Aziendale - Accounting and Cultures arrange a first discussion of the authors' papers in a specific session during the First International Seminar of Accounting History (ISAH), held in Siena 3-4 December 2015.

Topics may include, but are not limited to:

- Accounting theories and practices
- History of international accounting standard-setting
- Public sector accounting history
- History of accounting, auditing and managerial professions
- Accounting, gender and history
- Accounting and Economics
- Business histories
- Managerial uses of accounting information
- Management history

Potential contributors are encouraged to interpret the above themes broadly, using diverse theoretical and methodological perspectives.

All manuscript proposals (i.e., 1,000-word maximum: Title, Co-Authors, Abstract, Method, Primary Sources) should be sent by 12 July 2015 to rivista-cca@unisi.it with "My first paper of accounting history" as object. The full paper submission deadline for the Special Issue and ISAH is 20 September 2015.
